

Emma is a highly trained and experienced Make-Up Artist. Her work can be seen in various mediums from magazines, television, film and theatre. Her attention to detail and passion for the industry has seen her become one of the most sought over make-up artists in Ireland. In the short six years that she has been freelance, she has carved a successful career in Make-up Artistry and Beauty Blogging.

Emma is known for being professional and easy to work with amongst clients, teams and crews. Her creativity and artistic talent mean that every job is fresh and innovative. This can be seen in the amazing images that her work creates. Emma's extensive client list is testimony to professionalism.

She has worked on various TV shows through the years everything from RTE's Off the Rails to UTVs Primeval. Emma has also worked for some of Ireland's top publications including Prudence, U Magazine, Irish Wedding Diary, Wedding Journal, VIP, GCN and nearly every newspaper in Ireland.

Through the course of her work Emma has worked with many famous faces including Jason Donovan, Mary Byrne, Caprice, Maverick Sabre and Charlene McKenna to name a few.

Because of Emma's extensive knowledge and experience in the industry she is frequently called for her opinion and know how on beauty products and the industry in general. She has written articles for Prudence Magazine, U Magazine, The Irish Times Blog, SSH.ie as well as her own successful blog.

Emma's blog has gone from strength to strength and has had over 200,000 unique visitors since 2010. The blog is currently getting a re-vamp and is soon to include products reviews as well as video tutorials.